

The Future of Smart TV, The Future of Interactive TV

You are watching a Hollywood movie. You click the red button on the remote and a list appears of the locations used in that movie.

If it's a Bond movie that could mean over 60 exotic locations around the world including: Pinewood Studios, Parliament Square, Goldeneye, Jamaica and many more...

As you explore

As you explore the locations you are presented with products related to that movie including: DVD's, soundtracks, cinema tickets etc. and products and services related to the locations including: flights, car hire, restaurants etc.

The tech that makes it possible

All this is now possible using our LocationsPRO database coupled with our patented G3C Sitebuilder / Products Generator technology that can automatically build the necessary products inventory ready for presentation to your customers.

LocationsPRO has the world's foremost geocoded (mapped) movie locations database: 69,000 locations worldwide linked to over 100,000 movies.
